

John

Pimcok le Wenchil and the lad of Roger the smith of Rushton were charged for having stolen an ox of Hichecok Diggus of Rushton; and they returned it to him, and also John, bailiff of sir John de Gray took a mark (13s 4d) from the thieves as reparations for the said thefts. Pimcok paid a fine to avoid an inquiry being held.

1:79: 27 January 1260

T^rmin'

Impo'itm fuit pimcok le Wenchil & Garco'i Rog' fabri de Ruston' quod furtiue cepit boue' Hichecok Diggus de Ruston' Et it^rnus' sⁱ reddider't It'm Joh' ball's d'ni .J. de Gray cepit vnam m^arc' de p^rd'cis latronibus p emendac'oibus d'ci latrociniis. Pimcok fecit fine' p inqⁱsic'oe omittend'.